"Innocence Stolen: Protecting Our Children" will provide information to parents that helps them to keep children safe on the internet. The presentation informs adults about how to protect young people from negative and criminal influences online. Topics include social networking, cyber bullying, sexting, and internet predators. The program provides prevention and intervention strategies and internet safety resources.

This time is geared to speak directly to adults to promote conversations within families about this topic. The program contains no explicit graphic imagery, and it is not recommended for elementary-aged children.

"Innocence Stolen" will be shared by Vincent DeVivo, a Community Outreach Specialist with the United States Attorney's Office.
